Black Wednesday

Every year students at Washington go through a very hectic day, Orientation. For a lot of students this means two things- the end of summer and the beginning of a new year.

This day is important for all students, especially the freshmen. Finally, their first high school schedule! Now they can say they're Huskies!

As for the seniors, we now realize how fast four years can fly by. Orientation can get pretty confusing. So many lines and booths, who wouldn't get turned around?

The reason for Orientation is to take pictures and to get your schedule, and also to unite the school. It opens up a new door for everyone. New friends, a new year and a new collage of memories. By Tricia Jacinto

Just what do the colors orange and black represent at Washington?

Most people feel that the orange stands for Washington's pride, integrity and unity. The black on the other hand stands for strength, intimidation and respect.

As senior Maricela Cervantes explains it, "Orange and Black Day is an example of the spirit that is present everyday at Washington." This year the students were as spirited as ever.

Junior Mike Hafey sees Orange and Black Day as a time when "the whole school comes together as one after a week of competition between the classes." From carrying around creative signs to shouting spirited slogans, the students showed their pride in being a Washington Husky. Orange and Black Day brings one of the most exciting weeks of the school year to an end. by T. Gant

Stylin' in the 90's

Current custom in dress, manner, speech, etc. all fall under trends. Here, at Washington trends are abundant and students diverse. One can wear just about anything and still feel comfortable.

Each school year has different personalities that dictate trends, due to graduating seniors and incoming freshman. Here is how you and your fellow Huskies answered the following questions. by Shalin Amin

    4) 106.1

2. What is your Favorite Music Group?

    1) Pearl Jam
    2) U2
    3) Dr. Dre and Snoop Doggy Dogg

3. What piece of clothing do you think is the most trendy?

    1) Chokers
    2) Flannel Shirts
    3) Birkenstocks

4. What would you not be caught dead in?

    1) Bellbottoms

5. Who do you think is the Greatest Professional Athlete?

    1) Michael Jordan
    2) Joe Montana
    3) Deion Sanders

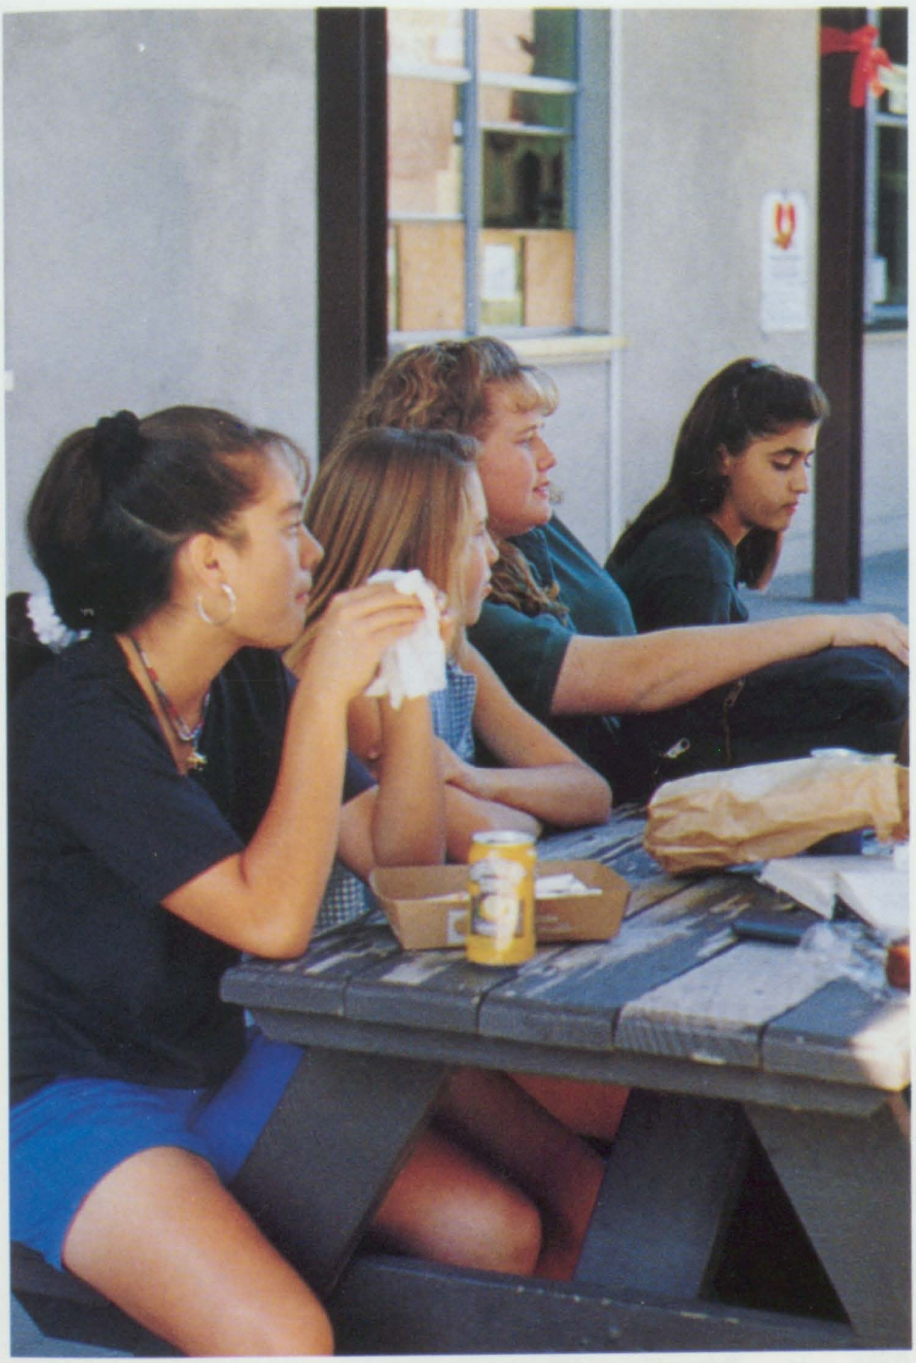
Lunch



There are two minutes left in fourth period. It seems like an eternity before the anxiously awaited bell finally rings.

To some, lunch is a time for social enjoyment, while others feel it is an opportunity to be free of school's restraining walls. Then, there are some who escape because, as freshman Brandon Orteman puts it, "I'd rather be stuck with broccoli and peas than eat the school's food."

There are also those people that may be called "true Huskies." Those are people that stick around at school and really enjoy the great activities and food lunchtime has to offer. Freshman Carl Wilkes says, "I'll eat anything."

People just have different opinions about the school's food. To tell the truth, many wouldn't eat here at school unless they were dying of starvation. But let's stop talking about the quality of the school's food, and just eat up! by Solomon Stewart

Bringin' home the

According to a recent survey, the people of Washington say that from their experience "bringin' home the bacon" is a pain but sometimes enjoyable. Senior Charone Speed made the statement, "It makes me too tired to do homework." When senior Jennifer Leonheart was surveyed, she said, "It's not something I enjoy." But between all the negative remarks, we were able to find some remarks that to some, made it all worth it. One of those was by Laura de Sousa who said, "It gives me a chance to be involved with different people outside of school." Funny Faces

Laughter is the most powerful way to express feelings of happiness, a foremost quality of human nature. It is through our giggles and "tee-hees" that we, the students of Washington High School are able to show the lighter side existing within us all.

It was surprising to see how free students were to show their unique funny faces. They were more than happy to stretch their faces in every direction possible, just to make others smile.

This page is a reflection of such silly characters and amusing behaviors. The pictures are a collection of students expressing their humor who, in return, will receive pleasing laughter from their peers.

These are merely small samples of the smiles and laughter which go on everyday. You are looking at the lighter side of Washington High School. by Pallavi G. Naidu

Winter Ball

For many Washington High School students who went to the Winter Ball this year, it was a night filled with many precious moments.

The semi-formal affair was held at the Centerville Community Center. The theme for this year's ball was "Hold onto the Night."

Those who went to the dance were probably so wrapped up in the mood that the hard work which went behind it was not noticeable. Much of the credit goes to the freshman class and their many volunteers. Diana Cangco described it as being very stressful as plans for the Winter Ball began quite early on and clashed with spirit week. With a lot of effort, the Winter Ball came together seemingly with ease.

Homecoming Dance

One of the biggest dances of each year is the Homecoming dance. This dance is special for everyone. It brings new memories, old memories, and WHS alumni. This is a night full of music, laughter, and fun as everyone reminisces about the years past and present. The music is great and no one can help tapping their feet to the beat. As with every dance, the Homecoming dance has its surprises, like the DJ's not showing up, but the most memorable surprise is the announcement of Mr. Husky.

This year, the five finalists piled on stage one last time. In the next few minutes of heart stopping tension, Tom Gant was named Mr. Husky for 1993.

The Homecoming game is always exciting. Suspense fills the air as everyone wonders who will win the game, Homecoming Queen, and the coveted Spirit Week trophy.

This year the mighty Huskies battled the Kennedy Titans. The Junior Varsity crushed the Titans 27-6. The Varsity team then crushed a highly regarded Kennedy team behind the rushing of senior Marvin Love, and the arm of senior quarterback Gian Solari. The defense allowed 346 yards, but only ten points in the game.

At halftime an emotional Jamie Britto was crowned Homecoming Queen and the senior class took home the spirit trophy while the Classes of '95 and '96 tied for second.

Being nominated as Homecoming Queen or Mr. Husky is a prestigious honor bestowed upon outstanding members of the senior class. The nominees of 1994 uphold this honored tradition with dignity and pride.

The senior class first, through secret ballot nominated those deserving of the title. The top eight ladies and eight gentlemen were then presented to the entire student body to narrow the selection to a total of ten. From those the Homecoming queen and Mr. Husky were chosen to continue this much honored tradition.

SPIRIT

Senior

The seniors' Unsolved Mysteries skit visited popular T.V. shows, each representing the local schools, in search of the spirit award. The seniors captured first place in the Spirit Week competition by displaying their awesome spirit and pride. The class of 1994 dressed horridly for, hecka ugly day; took on the look of the Italian mafia; and enlisted to march to the spirit of the class of 1994 for the famed army day, where they exemplified spirit.

The juniors portrayed the popular characters of Saturday Night Live. Hard work paid off when they received second place to tie with the sophomore class. Disco shoes and polyester leisure suits were the fashion of the day for seventies day; for Harley Davison day the class of 1995 went the black leather chaps, head bandannas, and boots look. Upon their final day they showed their spirit by looking ridiculous on nerd day.

Freshmen

The class of 1996 did a high-spirited rendition of the popular movie and Broadway play Grease. A lot of their enthusiastic class participated in the skit which helped to bring it a second place award in the Spirit Week competition, to tie with the junior class. The sophomores dressed in the fashion of ancient Greece for toga day; sported a "down home on the farm" look for hick day; and last, they dawned vivid colors of the 1960's.

Due to the sudden loss of memory, Hank visited the Fremont schools hoping something would trigger his memory of Washington. Although the freshman skit placed last in our Spirit Week competition, they did an excellent job in displaying school spirit. The class of 1997 rallied together for clash day; took on the look of the old west for cowboy and Indian day, and came dressed for a pajama party on the third dress-up day.

English

English. Although it is a requirement for all four years of high school, that doesn't mean it has to be all work and no fun. There is nothing else worse than being forced to read a boring old book or to have a pop quiz on words you've never even heard of. But some good will come out of the four hard and strenuous years in English. When asked what he thought was important, senior Alan Sien said, "there wasn't a most important lesson, but I learned something new everyday, especially during group work."

Most projects involve groupwork, which improves personal relationships with other classmates. When asked what projects they liked best, senior Caleb Severson replied, "The best one was on Julius Caesar; because it was so realistic." Thomas Audus, also a senior, said, "I just love working in plays. Everyone is responsible for their own parts. That builds trust and a sense of responsibility. It's also lots of fun." by Frank Chang

mathematics

Although math may be the most disliked and/or difficult subject for some, two years of this drudgery are necessary to graduate. Courses offered at Washington range from Math A to Calculus. Graduating seniors hoping to attend state universities need three years of college preparatory math to be eligible for admission. University-bound students are required to take four years of advanced mathematics.

The question that runs through the minds of many students while sitting in their math class is, "Will I ever need the skills I have learned in math in the future or ever again?" Why is math so important? Junior Lisa Coutee answered, "Sooner or later I'll need my mathematical background to figure something out."

To wrap it up, math will help in the future. Whether we like it or not, math impacts our lives in some way, everyday. So open your minds, study hard, math is here to stay! by Dawn Eleazarraraz

Where else can someone partake in stimulating lectures, mind-boggling chemistry equations and disgusting dissecting labs than right here in the wonderland of science! Chemistry, physics, biology and physiology are only a few of the science classes to which one can expose themself.

Sophomore year we learned how our bodies worked and how to make two-headed planaria in biology. Sophomore Joel Turner feels that biology is "interesting, because you get to do weird labs such as observing snails." Weird, indeed!

Chemistry opened our eyes to a whole new way of thinking. We all felt like mad scientists during the labs mixing the acids together and having fun while at it! To junior Joyce Lee, though, these labs can be something to fear! Joyce thinks that "the labs are scary because we are working with acids and I am afraid to burn my hand off!"

Physics isn't nearly as scary as chemistry, though. by Julie Nasseri

History is a subject that is trying to give students an idea about what the past was like many, many years ago. Many students said something like what junior Deja Mullan said, "Most of the time I'm not paying attention. Usually the subjects gets too boring and I loose interest. I just start thinking about the weekend or that special someone." Other students that say that they enjoy history and like to listen to lectures and movies because they are interested in what the world was like many years ago. Junior Leah Strong said, "I really enjoy U.S. history this year because I have Mr. Wallach as my teacher. He makes the class fun and interesting. I listen to his lectures and enjoy watching the movies because I am into what's going on in his class."

"I sometimes listen to a lecture and rarely watch a movie if I already know what it's about. It's a little distracting when you have girls sitting all around you, you can't keep focused on the teacher," junior Aaron Walker comments.

physical education

Everyone enjoys PE. It's a time to let all your energy out from listening to the lectures from all the teachers, and being in one spot for so long.

One of the sports that freshman Taylor Falk likes to play when he wants to exert some energy is baseball. He loves the strategy of the game and the stats, but what he really loves about the game is the competition. He just really loves the game in general, but when he's not out diving for balls or hitting home runs, he listens to his teacher, Coach Guin Boggs tell jokes and make the kids laugh.

Then, there's sophomore Julie Meyer who loves challenging everyone in her favorite sport, volleyball, especially when it's in the new gym. But what she doesn't like to do in the new gym is run around in it because she doesn't like getting all sweaty and tired. She would rather get right into her game that she plays best, volleyball.

Bonjour! Ca ya? Hola! Como esta ud? Guten Tag! Wie gehts? Foreign language students speak fluently and roughly, grammatically correct and otherwise.

Each language offered at Washington has its own unique accent and no two are alike. Only three languages are offered, French, Spanish and German, with each class offering five years.

Of the languages Spanish is the most popular among the student body, although French and German also have a strong following. "I like taking Spanish," commented senior Frank Chang, "because I really enjoy speaking in another language and learning about foreign cultures."

Senior Michelle Gallinger felt that she learned many important things in her German class. "In Detutsch klasse habe ich gelernt dab ich JFK, nicht ahnlich nicht ein Berliner bin!"

The Journalism class was the producer of the schools only paper, the Hatchet. Early in the year staff members had a hard time figuring out exactly how to write and what to write. Deciding what is important and what can be left out is a difficult part of writing stories for a newspaper. But with the help of advisor Wanda Wilson and the four editors, the staff became a group of very competent and good writers.

"Paste-up's" were also a very exciting part of the Journalism experience. It was the responsibility of the editors to lay-out their pages on a computer and then print it out and paste it to a page that was sent to the printer. Paste-up's lasted late into the night, not allowing the editors to return home until past midnight in most cases. But for them it was well worth it.

The paper was started in 1918-19 school year making this the 75th anniversary of The Hatchet. by Chris Walsh

While many students sit in classes pursuing academics excellence, others spend their time and energy in the drama room striving for a different kind of excellence.

"Drama is so creative, fun and free. Students can use their best sides and in the greatest way. We have the freedom to create and explore so many worlds. I try to encourage students to try anything be crazy and serious. I want them to lose their inhibitions and build confidence. We work on improvisations, creating on the spot. We try to have fun while understanding that you need to take a serious look at drama to truly understand and appreciate it," says drama teacher Ms. Porter.

"In drama you learn about the history of it. You also learn what acting is all about. There are other things you do in drama besides acting out skits. You do all sorts of different games," replies Sandy Matthies.

"It helps you improve speaking in front of people," answers sophomore Rebecca Marquez.

Students participating in Washington's special education classes receive the helpful services of the resource specialist and special day class program. Eligibility is determined by the Individualized Education Program or by the request of a teacher. Washington offers special classes in areas such as math and English. It is these classes which help improve basic skills and build confidence in core subject areas. It is also important to note that the participants of this program are just as hard-working and charismatic as any other Husky on campus, and should be recognized for their determination to succeed.

Do you want to be a famous chef one day? Would you want to see your name in print as a featured chef of a five star restaurant? Even the most skilled chefs had to start somewhere, and that place may have been a class like foods.

In foods class, you start simply and work your way up to harder concoctions. Working in pairs, you begin to bake things like cookies and other basic items until you get skilled enough to bake pizzas and carrot cakes. "It's fun working with someone to make a dish, but the best is when you eat it," says freshmen Jeremy Britto.

To some, the idea of hovering over a hot stove for a class period doesn't seem like much fun, but for others it is heaven. Just like some people like to listen to music or run a mile, people like to cook. "You can tell who likes to cook by their facial expressions. Some smile, some just glow," stated foods teacher Mrs. Chu.

health

Health, the highlight of every freshman's year is a required course of every Washington High School student. One unit was about first aid, mental and emotional health, nutrition, Family living and sex education. This class is viewed as very important and educational by many students. Others see it as an inconvenience but an obligation. There is no student graduating from WHS who will ever forget Health teacher, Mrs. Kreb's infamous statement, "Abstinence is the best policy."

art

Art is a class that helps people in a lot of ways. It helps people express themselves and it opens their minds to new and interesting ideas. "I like painting and then, when finally finishing, kicking back," said sophomore Victir Demello, "It helps me express my inner feelings."

"The extended projects of drawing and painting really catch my interest. I think color coding is a lot of fun," answers sophomore Megan Stone when she was asked what she liked about art.

Art introduces many new things to people. They learn about different kinds of paintings, painting utensils and different drawings, but most of all, they learn how to put colors together in harmony.

To many, art is just drawing and painting. Art is not just that; art is found in things we say, do, or even show in talents. Art is just a way of describing how you feel.

People in photography have a good time getting pictures of interesting and memorable things. "A picture of the sun under a rainbow is very rare. You would seldom see it. People are attracted to those photos and they are easily remembered," notes sophomore Chad Conrad.

In photography, they learn about how the camera operates and how to develop and print film An example of a photography project is getting a picture or pictures of someone or something that means something to you.

"A picture to remember is one of real people showing their personality. It is especially striking when the people are in surroundings that reflect their personalities!" exclaimed sophomore Jennifer Duke.

You step out from behind the curtain to greet a throng of screaming fans. As you strut out to center stage you pick up a guitar and begin a long solo. If this is one of your fantasies Washington High School has the class for you. Band is a year long elective offered at WHS and taught by Duane Mitchell. No prior musical experience is needed, just a desire to learn how to play. The school's band performs at football games, puts on concerts, and give command performances at various public venues. Senior Vince McGautha said, "Band is a great challenge, and it is a good way to relieve stress." By attending just one performance you can tell Washington High is full of musical talent.

The lights dim. A hush falls over the audience. Spotlights center on an assembled group at center stage. As the conductor raises his hand the choir bursts into a beautiful melody. Filled with dedicated, hard working individuals Washington High School's choir put on many great performances. The school has a beginning and advanced choir class. Taught fourth and fifth period respectively by Duane Mitchell, choir practices hard everyday to put on command performances that will astound and amaze their audiences. The difference between the two classes is that to be in advanced choir you must try-out, much like a try-out for a athletic team. Although it looks easy, it takes a lot of practice and dedication to be in choir. So lets give Washington High School's choir a standing ovation.

Setting Records

cross country

The Girls Cross Country Team completed one of it's most successful seasons in many years with a 6-1 dual meet record and a second place finish in the League Championships. Their only loss was to Mission San Jose who finished third in the state.

The girls finished sixth in the North Coast Section, considered the toughest section in the state; this placing earned the Lady Huskies a 24th ranking in the state poll!

One of the most memorable highlights of the year was a first place finish at the prestigious Moreau Invitational. Coach Young felt "this team came together as a unit and worked as a team, which is key to a successful Cross Country program."

The Varsity Boys Cross Country Team had only two returning runners, which made the year a rebuilding one. With five newcomers to the Varsity Team, they managed a fourth place finish at the League Championships. The Boy's Frosh/Soph Team finished fourth as well.

varsity football

Despite a disappointing overall record of 6-7, coach Jim Ingram's Huskies tied for first place in the MVAL with a league record of 5-1. Their finish in MVAL propelled them into the NCS playoffs.

Although their 0-4 start in the preseason startled many, they promptly reassured the fans with a 3-0 start in league play. In the league opener the Huskies overpowered Irvington 40-0. Following the Irvington game, the Huskies celebrated Homecoming by defeating Kennedy and then won back the Pop Gould Trophy by defeating Logan High.

In the first round of the NCS playoffs, the Huskies squeaked by previously undefeated Eureka 28-26, which launched them into the semi-finals. Their loss to De La Salle in the semi-finals was no disgrace since De La Salle eventually went on to win the NCS.

Junior Erin Walker led the team in rushing with 628 yards in 115 carries and four touchdowns. He was followed by senior Marvin Love who had 529 yards in 79 carries with five touchdowns. Quarterback Gian Solari passed for 120 yards in 11 completions, and ran for 529 yards in 79 carries with 7 touchdowns rushing and 1 touchdown passing.

j.v. football

Junior varsity football is always overshadowed by varsity. Varsity always gets the respect and the glory, but junior varsity has heart. Day in and day out we practice versus this intimidating group.

Sometimes we face tough times and we wonder why we're even on the team. Then we remember how much we invested by working out, spring ball and double days. We then realize that we're not just doing it for ourselves, but for the team and the school. So when you see this small group, cheer them on and give 'em your support.

frosh football

Freshman football is the best place to start a high school football career, but it's also the hardest. Just the transition from junior high to high school is hard enough, from being top dog of the school to the lowest life form on earth.

As freshmen, they receive no credit at all, not even a glance. To make matters worse, they get picked on by upperclassmen, with no way to redeem themselves.

To be on this team you have to pick yourself and other teammates up when you're down because nobody in school offers support even though you're undefeated. Freshman football is just a small step to the ultimate dream . . . varsity. by Marcelo Dalisay

Veteran player, Rakesh Mehta, feels that tennis is "a combination of controlled strength and precise timing." Fortunately, this year's boys tennis team has mastered these two critical areas. Both the teammates and the coach have high hopes and anticipate obtaining between second or fourth place.

The players, especially varsity, mainly consist of returning seniors. Their experience for the game has given the team an overall advantage. The younger members of the team are also being relied on to improve for next year's season as they will primarily make up the team.

girls varsity basketball

This years girls varsity basketball team is younger than usual but definitely better than ever. The varsity team is made up of six juniors, four sophomores and one lonely freshman. This year's team has no seniors which is pretty unusual for the varsity team. Our team is probably the youngest in the league but that hasn't stopped the girls from having a killer season. The Lady Huskies do their thing on the court. They don't let anyone get in their way. Proof of this is their preseason record. The girls did excellent, of course we have to give some credit to the new coach Mark Berk. Coach Berk taught the girls new strategies and techniques which have also led the Lady Huskies to an outstanding regular season. Sophomore Kim Oliveira said that the Lady Huskies have two goals this season. One is to win the MVAL title and the other is to qualify for NCS. Good luck ladies! We know you can do it! Congratulations on a great season. Lets make next year even better!

girls j.v. basketball

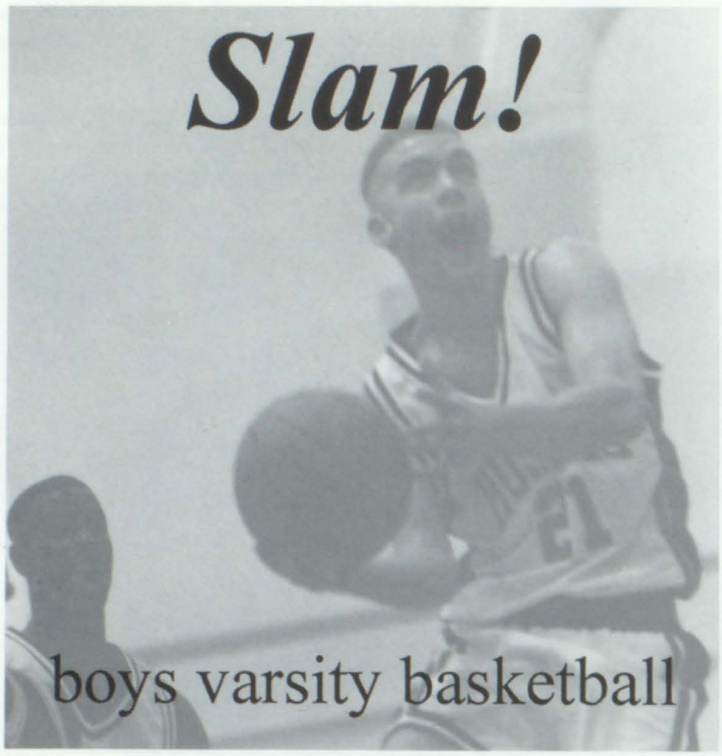
The position of junior varsity is a thankless one; people do not go to their games and no one seems to care. Nevertheless, the girls junior varsity team worked hard throughout the season.

Weakened by the varsity team's lack of seniors the team was filled with almost all sophomores and freshmen. But that did not mean that they did not try as hard as varsity.

Though plagued with many disappointing losses throughout the season, the team still managed to persevere through practices everyday afterschool and played their games with the fullest spirit and determination.

Led by the head coach Jim Ramos the Lady Huskies played their hardest in every quarter of every game, but were unable to make it out of last place.

Washington High School is lucky to have such dedicated Huskies and that brings a promise of great things for varsity and junior varsity girls basketball in the future. Thank you ladies.



Slam!

boys varsity basketball

Who let them dogs out? The boys varsity basketball team did it again. Overcoming all obstacles and exceeding all expectations the team won a second consecutive league title while finishing with a 11-1 record in league and a 22-6 record over all. What the Huskies lacked in size they made up for by playing tenacious half court defense. Once again the team lead the MVAL in defense and was third in offense. It was a year full of memories for the team. Who will forget the trip to Anderson, the last second game winning shots by Paul Burgess and Vince McGautha, the sweep of Logan or the victory over American at American. Now it's time to say goodbye to the departing seniors and wish the returning players good luck next year.

boys j.v. basketball

Swoosh! All net. This is what it sounds like at a j.v. basketball game. It seems like they never miss.

This group may seem small in quantity and size, but with their shooting eye, intellect and quickness, they are able to overcome this handicap. With all these skills put together, they are able to defeat big, dominant teams. If you are able to watch them, they look like turbo-charged Energizer rabbits. All of these talented athletes use team work to make everybody else better. With this they are the best they can be.

Get Up!

boys frosh basketball

The freshman basketball team is the most underrated of high school teams. They are always first to play, and are ignored by the upperclass students because they are thought of as the lowest of life forms. What people don't realize is that they are a very versatile team. They can pass, rebound, shoot; everything necessary to play the game. If people watched them, they would be amazed by the talent of these athletes and wonder why people don't watch them. So, to all the players, good luck in pursuing the varsity level.

The Washington soccer program has always been proud and successful. A few years ago the team was stacked with hard hitting, bruising players. Today the team is completely different. Replacing the once dominating size is unmatched skill.

With high expectations the soccer team set a goal. "Player for player we're so awesome that if we don't reach NCS we'll consider the season a disappointment," said junior Ryan Alter. But reaching the North Coast Sections wasn't going to be easy. The varsity team was in a three way tie for second place. "At this point we all needed to sit down and see how much we wanted it," said senior Caleb Severson.

Now the smell of victory lurks among the locker room. First year goalie Michael Degroat is beginning to play like a veteran, while the rest of the team is playing like a unit. According to Coach Losson come February 20 the Washington varsity soccer team will be in the North Coast Sections. by Shalin Amin Enjoying an extremely successful season the Huskies finished a strong third in MVAL play. With this record they were able to enter Shaunessey where they met with both Newark Memorial and James Logan. Both of whom they defeated to make it into the North Coast Section play-offs.

Once in NCS Washington up set a strong Bishop O'Dowd team 5-3 at California High. But the Huskies were unable to get by the tournaments number two seed San Ramon, losing 3-2 in an exciting game.

The ladies were led by their three seniors, fullback Katie Frazier, wing Carla Santos and goalie Shelly Twist, along with junior sweeper Megan Nelson and two freshmen; leading scorer Erika Ness and WHS's Rookie of the Year, Krissy Thompson.

If you have never been to a Washington wrestling match, you are definitely missing out on some exciting stuff. This year was no exception. The 1993-94 wrestling team provided some enjoyable moments for their fans and followers.

This year's wrestling team was made up of a group of hard working wrestlers who strived to always be at their best. The team was led by seniors Matt Peters and Charone Speed. This year's team also showed a great amount of young talent with the many freshmen and sophomores on the team. This combination of experience and youth provided for a team that gave each match its best effort.

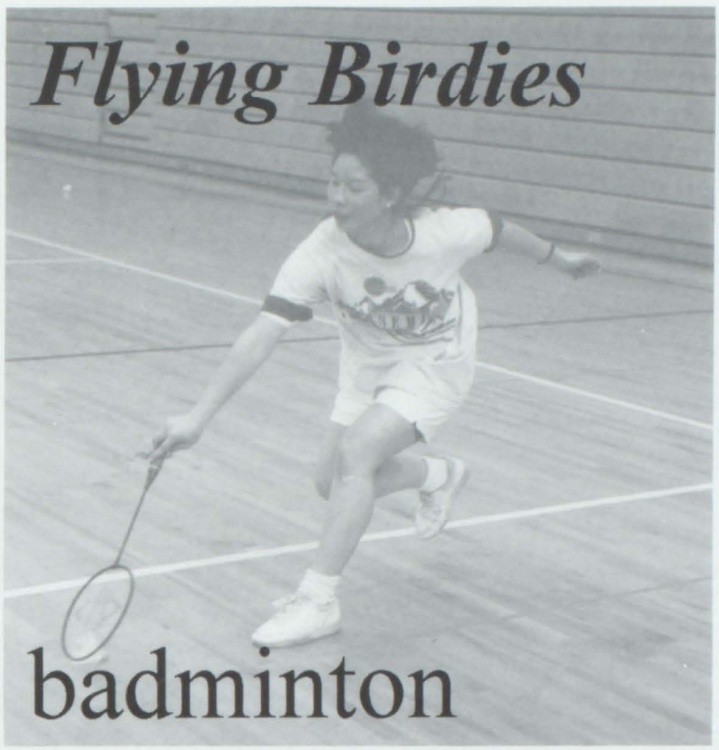
Flying Birdies



The game Badminton is a fun, exciting, and tiring game. The point is to put the shuttlecock (sometimes called a bird) over the net where your opponent cant hit it.

There are a lot of work involved and badminton is not easy. You have to know how to hit the bird; where to hit it to, and how to control your hit. You also have to practice your movements around the court, "footwork".

Badminton is not just a physical sport, its also a mental sport. You have to think ahead how you approach your opponent. You have to know his moves as well as your own. You have to plan out your next move before he makes his move. This is what makes Badminton is such a difficult game.

Baseball has always been thought of as an American original. This year's Washington High School baseball team has once again been able to live up to the honor of this great sport.

The team has been described as quite young and inexperienced as of yet. The varsity team itself consists of six juniors and four sophomores. It is predicted that as the season progresses, the team's experience will enable them to be more successful. As the team is young, there is still a lot of time for improvement. But as Coach Lightfoot said, "The future looks bright, but we want the future to be now."

Last year, after a long and hard fight, Washington was able to take fourth place in the championships. Vince McGautha feels that, "our team looks to be a strong contender for the League Championships." We all stand behind our team and wish them the best. by Pallavi Naidu

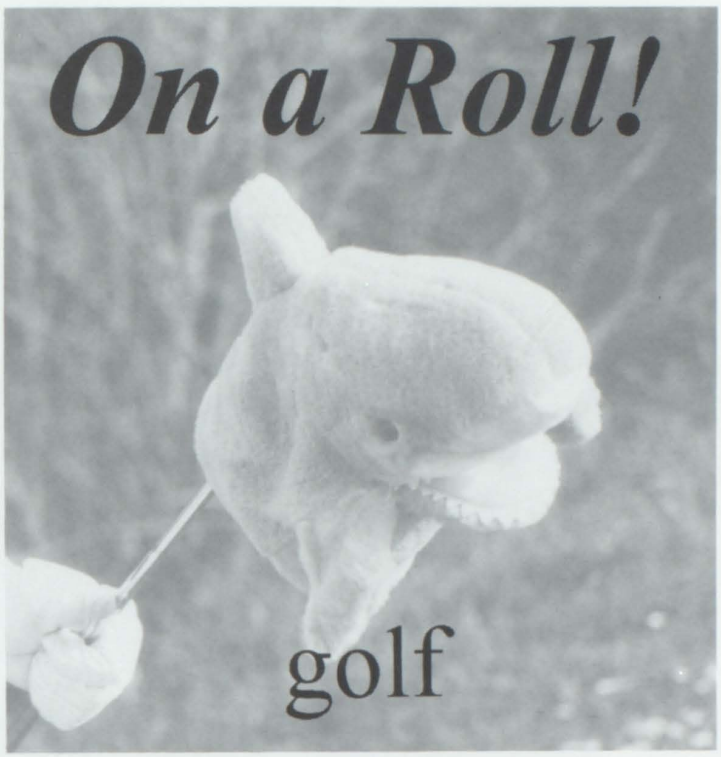
On a Roll!



FORE!!!!" is a call commonly heard on golf courses world wide when a shot goes astray. Yet when the Washington High Golf Team is out on the fairways, it is rarely heard. After a roaring first place finish last year, the Huskies are looking forward to another first place finish this year.

The star of the team is Senior Matt Brooks, who has been playing golf for over 7 years. Matt is considered the best golfer in MVAL, finishing first out of a field of 100 golfers in the yearly Antioch tournament. Behind Matt are seven strong golfers.

Why play golf? "It's a challenging sport, not a physical sport, but it takes a lot of skill, and that makes it fun," says senior Sean Howarth. "I really like it."

Junior Dominic Obie, who is the number two player on the team, recommends golf if you have "a lot of time, patience and money."

How do people get involved in golf? Matt was taught the game by his dad. "He used to beat me, but now I'm much better than he is," Matt boasts.

softball

This years softball program was one of the strongest in the history of WHS. Both the JV and varsity programs are blessed with some talented young ladies.

The pre-season for the varsity team was the best in the history of the sport at Washington. The team was 8-1-1 going into the start of the league. The girls won their very first tournament ever. The varsity team is very young this season, especially the infield with four sophomores, one junior, one senior, and one freshman. Despite their age they came to the team with a great deal of experience thanks to their dad's efforts.

Pitcher Jennifer Spediacci was named all-league second team last year as a freshman. She came on strong this year and was a very positive force for the team.

Offensively the whole team contributed to a fine pre/post-season. In the Antioch tournament they had 32 hits in just 18 innings of play. Jennifer Girard was the strongest of the bunch with 2 triples and a double in the championship game. All in all a good season for the WHS softball team; They worked as a unit and kept a positive attitude toward each other.

"Ladie's 50 yard freestyle," shouts the announcer. "Swimmers to the blocks, take your mark . . . BEEP!" As the buzzer sounds, the swimmers leap off the blocks and dive gracefully into the pool. The race is on! The crowd cheers as the lead changes hands. The winner is not determined until the end.

The girls swim team started the season with a big splash. Coached by Jennie Fudem, the squad, consisting of over seventy members, had a great and rewarding season. Both varsity and junior varsity squads battled for the championship against arch rival Mission.

Though the girls varsity team was somewhat young, experience helped the Huskies prevail over the competition. Seniors Shea Bellini, Dawn Eleazarraraz, Celine O'Neill and Kona Pollock led the team. Juniors Sharon McFeely and Michelle Faria dominated in the sprint freestyle and backstroke events. Freshman Marlena Yauch, a butterfly specialist, was a definite asset this year and will be in many more to come.

boys swimming

This year's Washington High boys swim team has dove into a successful season. They have already taken second place at the Township Relays and more victories are in their future. In fact, Travis Taylor believes that they have "a good chance of taking first place at the MVAL Championships."

The Varsity team has eight returning swimmers, all experts in the art of swimming. "We are fortunate enough to have lots of experienced seniors," commented Varsity swimmer, Garth Kimball. The entire team has been enhanced with the arrival of Mauricio Buchner, a very talented and skilled swimmer. waterpolo

After being cancelled last school year, the Water Polo team was brought back in the Fall of 1994. Coached by Don French, the team spent the season traveling up and down the East Bay playing teams such as College Park, Antioch, Piedmont, and Monte Vista.

This year's team overachieved their pre-season prediction. According to senior Garth Kimball they were expected to have "less than a mediocre season," but instead they pulled a serious run for the league title. The team also produced three All League players: junior Phil Wartena, and seniors Tim Bryant and Garth Kimball.

The highlight of the season came at the end when the team rallied to beat Saliegan in the playoffs. After posting an 8-5 record the players and the coach of the Water Polo team hope this program is continued next year.

Go! Fight! Win!

This year the rally squad under went some big changes; From the way others viewed us to how hard we worked. Throughout the year dedication has been driven into these girl's hearts and heads. Practice for camp started the week after try-outs and continued throughout the summer. Getting up early every morning, and practicing for two hours, was the girls regimen for the summer. The hard work paid off and both song and cheer took first place in their home routines, along with earning numerous superior ribbons. No matter what the circumstances, the girls were always there and ready to work hard! The girls although can't be given all the credit. Some credit is due to the worlds greatest coach, Vanessa McGautha (former W.H.S. song girl). All of you girls showed awesome talent, from your beautiful split leaps and toe touches to those "graceful little turn things". Thank you for an unbelievable year. Good luck with the years to come. Afghan Club

The Afghan Club is a club that studies other cultures and their own for fun. Every year they try to put on a show to display Afghan culture to give people a chance to understand what it is like. The club got a new advisor this year in the person of Ms. Tomlinson. The club focuses on Afghan culture but is open to all students that want to join and learn about Afghan culture. In past year's the club has made trips to see various cultural exhibits and they hope to do more of the same this year. by Chris Walsh

Amnesty International

The members of Amnesty International are concerned students that write letters to various countries in the hope of freeing political prisoners. The efforts of our chapter here at Washington, along with the others from around the world, have freed many prisoners of unfair justice. They participate in activities such as protest walks in San Francisco, candlelight vigils in front of the Peruvian Embassy and gathering signatures for petitions. by J. Nasseri

Do you find yourself always voicing your opinion but never getting response? Do you like to debate issues with a passion or just watch and listen to others? Then the club for you is the Debate Club. An issue was announced Monday to give students time to prepare. The debate itself was monitored by a watch to give equal time to both sides. Debate is not only used to voice your opinion but to broaden your horizons. by Chris Walsh

DECA

Deca is a merchandising and marketing club at Washington. Deca helps to prepare students for careers in the future. The members may talk about various subjects such as advertising, communications and management. Deca helps students learn leadership characteristics, self-confidence and provides them with an understanding of competitive enterprise system. Deca members also have competitions with other schools in such categories as advertising and display, general marketing and apparel and accessories. by Chris Walsh

French Club

"Bon-jour! Ca va?" "Good Morning! How are you?" These common phrases in French are just scratching the top of the rich, exciting and bold culture of France and its people. Students in the French Club are mostly students that have some experience in the French language but speaking French isn't what the club was all about. The club was dedicated to understanding what the life of the French people was like. Not just in Paris but in the Alps and along the coast and out in the country-side. by Chris Walsh

Spanish Club

In the Spanish Club the students do almost the exact same thing as those students in the French Club except that their focus is on Spain and the Spanish people. Spain is also very rich in culture with its intriguing history and seemingly odd traditions. Try sleeping for a few hours after lunch. They do it everyday in Spain. Everything closes because its too hot to work in the early afternoon. Most Spanish don't eat dinner until late at night, usually ten or eleven p.m. This is just a taste of Spain. by Chris Walsh

German Club

Another club that goes into a culture is the German Club. This club may be one of the most interesting on the campus because of the changes that were happening in Germany. East and West were coming together and creating a brand new culture full of old traditions from both sides of a wall that is no longer there. This is the first year that the club has been at Washington and Mrs. Reynolds, the German language teacher also was the club's advisor. This club will be exciting and informing for a long time. by Chris Walsh

The best description of the Interact club is in its name. The club has three main focuses: to help environmentally, to contribute through community service and to aid the hungry all over the world including the tri-city area. Every year Interact puts on their canned food drive to feed the hungry in the immediate area. They also hold an auction at the Niles Rotary where they sell services for money.

J.S.A.

JSA is a club offered to all students, that deals with many issues that concern youths today. Some of the issues JSA might talk about or debate euthanasia, abortion the death penalty and more. When you go to a JSA meeting you can listen to the people that have the same out look on the issue you may be talking about. You not only engage in stimulating conversations but you also get the pleasure of going to exciting conventions. JSA offers an exciting learning and social experience. by Leah Strong

Normally the Youth Alive Club, the name was changed to Koinonia this year, but the club itself stayed the same. The club is dedicated to the preservation of the Christian religion at school. Math \ C.A.M.L. Club

This school year saw the introduction to the Math/C.A.M.L. club at Washington High School. The club was founded by sophomore Robert Chang, who is also the president. The Math/C.A.M.L. club is designed to help students prepare for the monthly C.A.M.L. test. It is also a club where students can go to for help in math. Peer Counseling is a club aimed at helping others through their problems. To become a Peer Counselor, we must first complete a certain amount of training sessions. These students then have the responsibility of being representatives of Washington and its image. They also participate in the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program as role models to students in elementary schools. Peer Counseling is also the welcoming committee.

Parent-Teacher-Student Association is run by parents of Washington High School students. By working together with representatives from students and staff, they encourage parental involvement in school activities.

PTSA is responsible for many senior activities including senior breakfast and Grad Night. Also under the care of PTSA is the annual Powderpuff game.

Perhaps what they are most noted for though, is their Friday donut sales that help to raise money for scholarships.

Thank you for all the hard work and dedication.

Tragos Comos

"To be or not to be?" reads the line from Shakespeare's Hamlet. Well for the students of Tragos Comos it is to be. Members of the club are commonly in Drama but not always. All the students in Tragos Comos participate in the school plays but they also get to do extra stuff like see different plays, tour backstage and just get the overall feel for acting and producing plays. by Chris Walsh

We all came to Washington together, known as the new "Freshmen Class". But we weren't just ordinary "Freshmens", we were one remarkable class-the class of 1997.

Being in high school and adjusting to a new campus wasn't hard at all. For most of us, it was a year to relax, have fun, and enjoy high school. It was also a year of new and first time experiences. These experiences gave us the opportunity to get a glimpse of how high school life would lead us in the road ahead. Also, as a class, we saw and faced true challenges. Spirit week, for instance, was one of our biggest experiences that took us in a tough direction. Given with so little time, everyone struggled to present our first skit and prove we were as good as everybody else. We shared some of our spirit along with the school, but at the same time, we were also astonished by the intensity of the other classes' presentations. As for the Winter Ball, it took no less of the great effort that was put into our spirit week.

So overall, we came, we saw, and yet to come, we will conquer! The class of 1997 is a team that works together and makes great things happen. Now that we have ended this year, hopefully in the next three years here in W.H.S., we will be able to look back in the past and remember all the good times that have happened during our Freshmen year. Thanks to all, and good luck to everyone! Donna Cango, freshmen class president

"Freshmen!" A phrase, this year, that was no longer thrown in our direction. Class of '96 we are, and we're here to stay.

The class of '96 made HUSKY HISTORY this past year. Sophomores went above and beyond the call of duty to pull together and perform an excellent skit, a skit that was one of the biggest highlights of our sophomore year. Since the beginning of the school year, sophomores were pumped for a "defeat" within classes during spirit week.

Breaking tradition, the class of '96 tied for SECOND place with the junior class.

After a "quiet" freshman year, we definitely showed how spirited and determined the class of '96 is. This past year, was one to remember and one we'll never forget. We're looking forward to the next two years to come. And hoping they're even more exciting than this past year.

We hope to unite and pull together even more throughout the years to come, and end them with a "BANG!"

It's off to be "upperclassmen" we go. And the class of '96 "goes together"-Kim Oliveira, sophomore class president

Our freshman and sophomore years have long since past, but still lingers in our minds as if it was just yesterday. Now we're almost at the end of yet another great year, when we now look ahead to the future that lays before us. Challenges to meet, dilemmas to solve, and obstacles to overcome are just a few of the things ahead.

But this year is truly a year to remember. It was full of fundraising; starting off with the wake-a-thon, carwashes, and pizza nights. All for the purpose of raising money to make our senior year the best year we'll ever ever have! This was the year when most of us traded in our bikes for a set of wheels. As we look back, with a sigh of relief, we can remember the excitement of Spirit Week — seeing the juniors riding their Harleys and dancing to the beat of the '70's. The school had never seen so many nerds until we overwhelmed the school in large numbers, only armed with our calculators and our wits. We were, of course, the mighty, mighty, JUNERDS!! As the year progressed, our attitudes turned to a more serious note while finals, SAT, ACT, ACHIEVEMENTS, and COLLEGE SEARCH filled our minds. Junior Prom came as if to conclude this strenuous year. The class of 1995 is undoubtedly unique, we always have been and always will be! Soon we will depart to our separate ways. And no matter how far apart we are; we will never forget who we were and where we came from. Best wishes to all and good luck in your senior year.-Ryan Cangco, junior class president

The class of 1994 has changed, matured and grown so much since we first stepped foot on this campus. We have shared a lot of good times together and each of our own personal memories will always be cherished.

We've learned that high school is what you make of it and seniority has its privileges. We've all had to learn some hard lessons, too. But we've taken good and bad in stride because June 18 is our day. It is what we've worked, strived and hoped for. I hope the class of 1994 will hold a little piece of our time here at WHS close to our hearts forever. Think about it . . . look back and relish these times, because nothing can replace the past and no one can predict the future. Good luck and best wishes, Jamie Britto, Senior class president

Senior Auction

The audience goes in an uproar as someone cracks a joke about the senior on display. photo by Marc Perkins

Just a novice M.C., senior Neil Chudgar attracts the audience with his vivid expressions and dentyne smile. "Is he up for bid?" someone asks. photo by Marc Perkins

"5 dollars, 5 dollars, anybody for 5 dollars," the M.C. announces as seniors go on sale. The annual fund raiser for the graduating class sparked up much interest earning a whopping $350.00! Being bought as a servant for a day, seniors were seen parading in queer outfits or wearing class logos like "I love freshmen." Seventeen brave seniors sold themselves to merciless buyers alling a plus to their treasury. Way to go class of 1994! by Jeannie Chun

Brenda Lema turns away in embarrassment as the M.C. mentions her duties. Is she really supposed to go out on a date? photo by Marc Perkins

Senior Breakfast is a time for the graduates of 1994 to get together and strengthen their ties to build a more unified class. The breakfast was once again held at Newark Pavilion and is one of the few senior events provided by the school. The theme of the breakfast was "HO-DOWN" and corresponding mugs were given out.

Senior, Senior, on my way to start a brand new life someday. The end is near, it's almost here, HOO-RAY! HOORAY! Without my friends Chris, Lani & Zippy I might not have made it through so quickie & although each day I almost hit her, "TayTay you best not be bitter!" Cause I luv ya anyway! So this is it we've come adrift upon reality's shore, so stand up tall & walk with God & we'll be safe for sure. Mom & Dad, I'm glad I had you're strength, support, & trust. You're love & understanding are outstanding & I love you guys so much! & I love you Shell even though smtims you can't tell. Good luck & love to everyone — from LAUREN HENDERSON

COLOPHON

The theme of the 1994 Washingtonian is "It's About Change."

The main font used throughout the book is Garamond. In body copy and folio tabs the point size is 14pt. and in caption copy, it is 10 pt. The colophon and editor's note appear in 14 pt. Jester. All dropped initials appear in upper case Garamond Bold.

Headlines vary from Times New Roman to Scribble, as used in the colophon headline.

The cover was created on the Dimension program on a 9 x 12 trim size with sewed binding. An Editionline cover, its art is silk screened in orange and a silver foil is also applied. The type of paper used is Gloss 80# 191. A total of 950 copies of the Washingtonian was ordered.

A special thanks to Ray Koski for the usage of his sports team pictures.

Yearbook staff:

EDITOR'S NOTE

The production of the 1994 Washingtonian was a long and frustrating one, but all in all, everything came out all right. (TERRIFIC!)

The beginning of the process began in August, 1993, at UC Santa Barbara where yearbook camp was held. Master layouts and the planning of the ladder were all developed even before the first day of school. (Ugh!)

It has been quite a busy nine months, but we can now look back on those seemingly unending days of hard work and say, with pride and relief, we did a job well done. "Baby" came out beautiful. (Smile!)

I would like to extend my heart-felt gratitude to my advisor (in yearbook, among other things) and friend, Fred Brower. You have been the one sustaining factor during days I thought I would never make it. (Be good.)

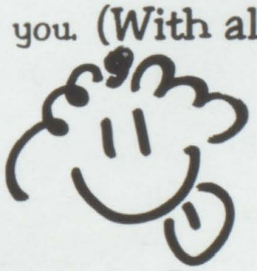
To Geoff "Skids" Skidmore, thank you for the encouraging smiles and strong handshakes which congratulated me on the effort I strained to put forth. (Good luck in the years to come.)

To my bosom friend, Pallavi Naidu, who volunteered to be my "yeller," you have pulled me through the murkiest of times. Thank you for your hugs and companionship. (I'll miss you, you two-finger typer.)

To my better half, just hearing your voice through so many long-distance calls cleared the clouds away and made way for the sunshine to warm my heart. Thank you for helping me find the courage to keep on chuggin'. (Mahal kita.)

To my mommy, you gave me so much of your own strength, I wonder how you ever managed on the little you left yourself. Your caring gestures comforted me through nights of anguish and hopelessness. Thank you for holding my hand throughout it all. (You're the best!)

To all who, with pride, call themselves Huskies, this is for you. (With all my heart.)



-Mia Dalisay,
editor-in-chief

CHANGE. It's all about replacing one thing for something that's better, brighter. Things are okay right now, but there's still room for improvement. We all have the power within ourselves to bring about change. It starts with each one of us. Get motivated. Put your heart into it. Get knowledgeable. Each one of us does make a difference. All we have to do is care.

Change is a good and necessary thing. All we need is to have hope in that unknown territory, the future.

Change is vital. Change is growth.

Jessica,

We can't express how proud we are of you. You have accomplished what you set out to do. You have our Love and Support.

We Love you,
